in the display window of the Belgian appeal is one that cannot fail to touch hardly enough to cover the frail little half-starved frame and not enough to prevent suffering, disease, and possibly death. The window is correctly labeled "Over There." While in the opposite window "Over Here" is shown the little girl with her dainty little room well filled with furniture of child's delight, the doll and dresses two young boys have made the best record since the clubs were organized in project work, including home economics and farming.At the state fair a school will be conducted for boys and girls who have won similar prizes in each county of the state and teachers from the agricultural college will discuss with the young people vital facts about farm life and home economics. It is expected the school will be a splendid course of instruction.There will be forty other club members, boys and girls, who will visit the

Deaths and Funerals

BLANCETTE—Henry C. Blancette, aged 79 years, died last evening at 7:30 o'clock at his home, on Thirty-eighth street and Grant avenue. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. H. L.
Morehouse of Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. E. J. Hunter of Tabor, Iowa. Mr.
Blancette came to Ogden from Virginia with the first settlers, 49 years ago. He was in the merchandising business until a few years ago. He had been ill for several months. Arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.PLANCETTE—Henry C. Plancette, well known Ogdenite of Thirty-eighth street and Grant avenue, passed away last evening of general debility. He was 75 years of age. The body was taken to the Larkin chapel to be prepared for funeral services and burial.RODICK—Mrs. Millie Rodick passed away Sunday morning at 6:55 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs.
Earl Wiggins, 247 Twenty-second street after an extended illness of cancer of the breast. She is survived by her daughter Dora, aged 10 years, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Earl Wiggins, Mrs. J. W. Bissell of San Diego, Cal.; Glad and Wallace Johnson of Raymond, Ida. Mrs. Rodick was born in St. Charles, Ida., the daughter of Abel and Christina Ber-green Johnson, October 16, 1855. The body will lie in state at the home of Mrs. Wiggins tomorrow afternoon from 4 until 9 o'clock and Wednesday until 2 p. m. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 3 o'clock at the third ward meeting house, Bishop Myron E. Richardson officiating. Interment Ogden city cemetery.DEMOCRATS TO HOLD THEIR PRIMARIES
TONIGHTThe Democratic primaries for Ogden City and Weber county to be held delegates to the county convention, to meet in Ogden, next Saturday, will be held tonight. Those in the city will convene in the court house at 8 o'clock and in the county at the school houses.In the city the people will meet in the large court room, and after the meeting is called to order, each of the wards will separate and name their delegates. The apportionment in the city will be as follows:
First ward 21; Second ward 11; Third ward 12; Fourth ward 24; Fifth ward 23.In the county, the apportionment of delegates will be the same as was published in the official call except that North Ogden will have three delegates instead of two.The indications received in the city from the county districts this morning were that there will be a large attendance at each of the primaries.
In the city it is said the attendance will undoubtedly be larger than any primary held in the city in a number of years.NAZIMOVA DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCEIt seems that Nazimova is the one logical actress who should have the role of Joine. There is nothing placid about either the star or the character, they are both intense, dynamic beings. Joine is a "daughter of joy"—a popular model—in the Latin quarter of Paris. She is accepted as a model for all pictures that Paul Granville, an American artist, paints until he attempts a madonna. He realizes that Joine's blasé, hardened face lacks the spiritual qualities needed to inspire and guide him in creating so sacred a picture. Joine—pampered and spoiled with a temperament, impetuous outburst of indignation and jealous refuses to allow any other model to replace her.The great emotional acting opportunities offered in this portrayal are well within the scope of Nazimova's wonderful interpretative powers. When Joine makes a serious confession to the prior of the monastery, the gripping power of the sympathetic portray of this repentant girl offers greater opportunity for acting than the dramatic climax of Nazimova's first photodramatic portrayal—that of Joan in "War Brides." Nazimova and Joine coincide in my mind with marvelous precision.

the army.of Bacchus, god of wine and revelry, with leaves in her hair, a garland of grapes across her shoulders, with a rosette in one hand, and a cluster of grapes in the other, she performs "La Danse Bacchante," typifying the exuberant spirit of revelry of a Parisian cafe.The great Nazimova executed this dance with true artistry and poetry of motion in graceful movements which were ideal for registration by the motion picture camera. On the screen, this dance is a revelation in accurate presentation of dance movements, in motion pictures. At the Utah again to-

CANDIDATE FOR TREASURERGus Troilicht, deputy auditor in the Weber county court house today announced his candidacy as a Democrat for the position of county treasurer.
Mr. Troilicht has been considering this step for several weeks but did not make the announcement until he had weighed his chances carefully and decided he had many friends who wished him to enter the race."Gus," as he is familiarly known, has qualifications for the position through experience and ability. He was in the county treasurer's office in a Colorado county for six years and has been in the auditing department of the county government for two years. He has been a taxpayer in Utah for fifteen years and has a wide circle of friends who are supporting his candidacy for the position of county treasurer. Mr. Troilicht for some time operated a pool and billiard business in the J. P.
O'Neill building and under the Ogden State bank.SPECIAL TRAIN GOES EAST THIS EVENING
WITH WORKERSAt least one hundred and fifty men will leave Ogden tonight on a special train at 6:40 for Nitro, West Virginia, where they will be employed in the great U. S. ammunition plant.E. Lewis, representing the plant, has been present at U. S. employment office looking over possible men since last Wednesday, and is well pleased with his success in finding the kind of men wanted for this most important work.WOMEN NAMED FOR States Employment Bureau returned to Ogden on Saturday night from a trip to San Francisco whither he had taken forty-nine skilled mechanics to be employed in the Moore shipyards.

Mr. Newcombe found that the demand for skilled mechanics is now pretty well filled, but there is still a great shortage of unskilled laborers.ORPHEUM TODAY Big Double

THREE STATES HOLD
CONVENTION TO BE PERPETRATOR OF MANY BURGLARIES IN THIS CITYThe annual convention of religion class workers of the Ogden, North Weber and Weber stakes was held Sunday at the Weber normal college. Sessions were at 9 a. m. and 2 p. m. and a luncheon was served at noon at the college.Reports made by the three presidents, Martha P. Bingham of Weber, Albert Green of North Weber, and Joel Ricks of the Ogden stake, were to the effect that the teaching system in all of the wards are well-organized and ready for the coming winter's work, that the officers and teachers are capable and that an organized effort will be made to obtain greater support for the religion class from the parents as the season progresses.Superintendent Margaret P. Bingham conducted the morning session directed by Prof. E. W. Nichols. The program was opened by the assembly singing "The Star Spangled Banner," and the invocation was led by Bishop J. W. Ure. This was followed by the presentation of reports by the three stake superintendents. A selection by the Ogden stake instrumental trio was next on the program, preceding a discussion of local problems, namely, "Education of the Seventh and Eighth Grades," by Belle S. Newman of the Weber stake; "How to Get Boys Interested in Religion Class Work," by A. W. Sorenson of the North Weber stake, and "How to Hold Interest in Seventh and Eighth Grade Boys," by Cordelia Reeder of the Ogden stake. The discussions were ably handled, each speaker bringing out many points of special interest and value to the class supervisors.An address by Elder William A.
Morton of the general board, on the theme, "Application of Religion Class Work in Daily Life," followed the discussion by the Ogden stake representatives.The closing song was, "Have I Done Any Good in the World Today," and the closing prayer was led by Bishop W. W. Rawson. From 12:30 until 1:45, the luncheon and, with it, social intercourse was enjoyed.The afternoon meeting was conducted by Superintendent Albert Green and Joseph Fennellus directed the music, "What Shall the Harvest Be?" was the opening song, sung by the assembly and the concert invocation was led by Patriarch Nathan Hawkes. An appeal to the religion class workers to support the fourth Liberty loan, by individual subscriptions and giving assistance to the relief societies in the ward campaign, was made by Elder John V. Bluth of the North Weber stake presidency, on behalf of the general authorities of the church. "A Liberty bond for every member of the family," he said, "should be our slogan."The principal address of the afternoon was given by Elder Michelson, of the general board, on the subject of "How Parents May Assist in the Work," supplemented by a discussion of the science of child life. "Parents must know something about religion class work," he said, "before they will become converted to it. If they do not visit the classes to obtain this knowledge, then the work should be taken to them."Elder John Halls of the Ogden Stake presidency urged the workers to continue faithful in their service, giving careful, conscientious, and prayerful thought to the preparation of the lessons for the children. "It will not do to just 'get by,'" he said, "but you should give a full measure of service, not merely entertaining the children, but inculcating within them a religious spirit that will be lasting."Elder Alva L. Scoville, representing the Weber stake presidency stated that the Religion Class was not being regarded as a superfluous organization but one very essential.
He encouraged the workers to go forward in their efforts to give the children the religious training needed, despite the seeming difficulties in their way. "Every obstacle," he declared, "is an opportunity and you should pray for difficulties, rather than a clear path. The great men and women of the past are those who faced difficulties and the world now requires men and women who have an object in life and who continually work toward its achievement. You Religion Class workers have much to do and you should do your work thoroughly as you go, for detail work signifies the best capacity. Do not worry too much about results but do your best, remembering that enthusiasm generates ability, and all will be well."Bishop Gilbert Thatcher, of Plain City, in a brief talk, said that love for Religion Class work and for the children is the moving force in the success of the movement, just as the love for the cause and country they represent is the force behind the successful drive of the American soldiers in France against the Hun. "For and manifest this love in your work," he said, "and you will enjoy it, for we are here to serve God and to develop ourselves in the service."That there is no difference in the degree of importance of officers or auxiliary organizations to the general growth of the church, was the decla-A suspicious bulge on the hip of Reldon Ruse, 17 year old Salt Lake lad, Deputy William Brown to take the youth to the county jail today for investigation. The result was the finding of three big revolvers, a dirk and a slingshot, and the discovery of a series of burglaries which have been perpetrated in Ogden during the past week. Before the officers were through examining Ruse they say he confessed to the burglary of the Jesse Moore store, Thirteenth and Washington avenue, on September 18, and the Grant store, 874 Twenty-sixth street on September 20, and possibly the Joe Bott store on Lincoln avenue, a day or two previous.Sheriff Peterson said the young man all the ear marks of an embryo desperado and his story of the burglaries, which he boastfully imparted to the officers, sounded like a page from an old-time dime novel.Tore Out Screen.
At the Grant store, on Twenty-sixth street, entrance was gained by tearing out a section of screen. The burglar had first shot through a glass window, expecting to put his hand inside the door and release a catch which locked it. Another lock, however, prevented this. A quantity of beans, chewing gum, real loaf, pencils and a revolver, were stolen from this store. The burglar emptied a floursack on the floor to get a bag in which to carry his booty. When Ruse confessed to this robbery, he said he took the sack of stolen goods outside and noticed that his clothes had become covered with flour from the sack which he carried. He shot through the sack in a spirit of peevishness and the canned real loaf, held as evidence at the sheriff's office, caught the bullet.
He then threw the goods away.At the Moore store 120 pennies and some small change was stolen, in addition to thefts of stamps, gum, candy, edibles and other small articles.Gun Identified.
Ruse was identified as the burglar by the finding of the gun on him.
When the Moore store was robbed a description of the articles taken, including a .38 caliber revolver, was given to the sheriff by Mr. Moore.
When Ruse was arrested by Deputy Brown and the guns, knife and slung-shot were found on him, one of the officers remarked the resemblance of one of the guns to that stolen from Moore. Mr. Moore was called and positively identified the gun as his own.When Ruse was confronted with this evidence and the accusation of his being responsible for the other burglaries, he is said to have broken down and confessed. His case will be handled by the juvenile court as he is under age.AMERICAN CAN SENDS OUT S. O. S. CALL FOR HELPAn emergency call for a host of youngsters, who are capable of stacking the cans in cars ready for shipment, was sent out today by the American Can company.According to J. G. Leonard, manager of the Utah company, the need for many extra hands is acute, and there must be a quick response if the company is to give the factories that support demanded to get the big war

FROM FT. DOUGLASThe Ogden police are on the lookout for Gilman R. Teller, who, with two others, has escaped from the guard house at Fort Douglas. Teller is not only a deserter but is wanted in connection with a grand jury charge.Teller, it will be remembered, made his escape from Fort Douglas and came to Ogden where he was assisted in evading the authorities by two local women, Josephine Cross and Amanda Wilson, and a male employe of a local hotel. He then got away into Idaho but was captured and returned to Fort Douglas.Teller is described as being about 5 feet 9½ inches in height, weight about 155 pounds, light blue eyes, light brown hair, ruddy complexion, vacination scar on left arm, scar on forehead, scar on right knee, pock marked on neck and also on right side, has a sharp nose, and a habit of squinting.
Teller made his escape with two others, August Schenke and William E. Craig.Today only, your last chance
